

Vol. 1
No. 2
June 14

Press Play

Let's Start Something.

All the best things begin when you Press Play!

Either you have a Dad, you are one, or you know one. Either way, enjoy the day!

Happy Father's Day

The official start to Summer is right around the corner. Let's start the party early with some great ways to take part in the best that WNC has to offer.

-Jay Salton, Editor

New here? Stop sharing and get your own email.

Festival Spotlight

All Go West

Multi-stage music festival All Go West will return to West Asheville June 16-17. This year features over 50 bands from in and outside of town, including a songwriter themed stage and venues spread throughout Haywood Road. Did I mention it's free? Did I mention they have a stage at the Brew Pump? Talk about something you didn't know you needed.

Bands to check out: Bask, Nest Egg, Zack Mexico, Secret Boyfriend, Pie Face Girls

Preview the bands

Millennial Toast remix:

According to the internet, millennials love the combination of avocados and toast for breakfast. Sunny Point Café in West Asheville has truly brought this delicacy to the next level. This thing is huge—knife, fork, and napkin material. It's got eggs, it's got bacon, it's got arugula, tomato, balsamic reduction, pickled onions. It even has avocado. Piled on hearty delicious bread. It is fantastic and every millennial must try it. It will go over huge on your Instagram. Take your dad and maybe even pay this time!

Plan your breakfast

Avocado newbie? Try your hand at Jay's Avocado Toast Recipe

ShareTweet

Feelin' Saucy? Try Waynesville's newest eatery:

Waynesville gets Sauced

Haywood County residents who have been peeking in the windows of the new downtown Waynesville restaurant "Sauced" can finally go inside and enjoy pizza, tacos and taps at the former Tipping Point Tavern location. After months of planning, the...

Read more

www.theguidewnc.com

Another excuse to discover Waynesville...

If you've overlooked Waynesville, you are missing out. Waynesville is vibrant, filled with local shops and restaurants. It's also home to a fantastic newspaper with one of the best weekly newsletters I have ever read. ;)

But I digress—Waynesville is about to step its game up and undergo a touch-up that will expand its downtown area, turning the once gritty and dumpster strewn Wall Street to a still gritty, yet business filled, walk-able area that smells better. Read more about the project below:

Downtown Waynesville to get a touch up

Even quaint needs a makeover sometimes. The vibrant street scene of downtown Waynesville is renowned for its Norman Rockwell character, but it's starting to show its age. A master plan to refresh the downtown streetscape will get underway this...

Read more

www.themountaineer.com

Obscure Holiday Celebration: World Blood Donor Day

Do you love being a good person? Well this is the perfect day for you. World Blood Donor Day is today—Thursday June 14, but consider donating blood anytime this coming weekend or any weekend ever! You can save lives and get free Oreos in the process.

Find a place to give blood

Take Action

HEX to Host Dance Party Benefitting GIRLS ROCK

With its bi-monthly dance parties, HEX has found a way to benefit local organizations while getting people to let loose in a safe and supportive environment.

This month HEX will be benefitting Girls Rock, a nonprofit camp empowering kids who identify as female, trans, and/or gender nonconforming.

Featuring three DJs, a short film by Fierce Flix, and a performance by songwriter Celia Verbeck. It all goes down at the Mothlight on Saturday, June 15.

For more information Meet HEX

Criminal Minded

The weirdest crime story I heard this week

Locos Tacos: We all know about the violence Taco Bell commits to our insides, but some people choose Taco Bell's food as an actual weapon.

Case in point: an Asheville teenager was recently arrested for hitting a three-year-old in the face with a Taco Bell bag. That's about all of the information available about the incident, but it paints quite the picture in one's head.

What did the three-year-old do? Were they talking smack about the Cheesy Gordita Crunch? Are they more of a Cookout person? Was the Taco Bell bought as an intended weapon? The world may never know; at least until the film rights are sold.

Job Posting of the Week for the Desperate and Unfulfilled

Not British enough to enter The Great British Baking Show? Here are some jobs for you:

Annie's Bakery is looking for bakers, drivers, sales, support, and shipping/receiving.

Apply now \(Annies\)

Geraldine's is looking for experienced bakers.

Apply now \(Geraldines\)

In case you're wondering, the next season of The Great British Baking show premieres June 22 @ 9 p.m. on PBS #PBSBakingShow

Quit your lurking and sign up now!

MEET THE EDITOR

Hi, I'm Jay. I like pizza, puppies and snarky emails. I hope you do too, cuz I got lots more where this came from.

Hit me up sometime.

Visit us at PressPlay.news (The brainchild of The Mountaineer & The Guide)
With home bases in Asheville, Waynesville and beyond...

Catch us if you can.

